PBLD (45 minutes)

Lunch

Hot topics in Anaesthesia

14:00-15:30

Chair: Benedikt Pannen (Düsseldorf, DE)

Anaesthetic techniques as modulators of long-term outcome in cancer patients: fact or fiction?
How to treat intracranial hypertension - what's the evidence?
New concepts of enhanced recovery after surgery and anaesthesia

Georgina Flood (Dublin, IE)
Benedikt Pannen (Düsseldorf, DE)
Stefan De Hert (Ghent, BE)

Symposium (90 minutes)

It is with great pleasure that the ESA announces its third Autumn Meeting on 9-10 November 2012 in Prague, Czech Republic. The Society's intention is to extend educational activities to European countries that for practical reasons cannot accommodate meetings of the size of Euroanaesthesia. Hopefully, it will also be more convenient for some members to attend such meetings in central and eastern European cities. After the success of last year's meeting in Krakow, we look forward to another interesting Autumn Meeting

The ESA is aiming for an affordable CME accredited meeting for a limited number of 400 participants. It will be a two-day programme consisting of plenary lectures on specific topics, problem based lecture discussions (PBLDs) and hands-on workshops. This year's presentations will cover the state-of-the-art topics in obstetrics, paediatrics, resuscitation, emergency medicine and critical care. In parallel, the PBLDs will be presented and a hands-on workshop on the use of ultrasound in regional anaesthesia will be available for a limited number of participants. We hope that this third annual Autumn Meeting will be as well received and even more successful than its first and second versions in Budapest and Krakow, and that we can welcome both trainees and already established anaesthesiologists to this event in the captivating city of Prague.

Masterclass in Scientific Writing, 6-8 November 2012, Prague, Czech Republic

Improve your skills in Scientific Writing!

Masterclass in Scientific Writing is an advanced scientific workshop dedicated to learning how to write critically and and appraise scientific articles and abstracts. During this workshop participants will learn how to recognize good and poor quality papers, how to choose the right journal for publication, avoid common mistakes in the publication process and communicate efficiently with the editorial team.

This ESA Masterclass is aimed at future leaders in European anaesthesia research: young anaesthesiologists who already have some experience in the field in the clinical research field are clearly motivated in their choice of an academic path for their medical career in the future. The course is open to all active ESA members up to 40 years of age who speak and write English fluently, already have some publications in their native language and are making recognized efforts to develop their scientific writing skills. The programme contains a series of lectures and workshops during which participants will apply the knowledge learnt during lectures through practical exercises. The Faculty consists of international experts in scientific medical writing who received outstanding evaluation by attendees of the previous course.

Apply by 30 June 2012 for participating to the ESA Masterclass in Scientific Writing 2012 that is organised in Prague, Czech Republic, between 6 and 8 November 2012!
